

Improving the world bit by bit...

01 Advanced Innovation

high-tech development – sustainability – computerized comfort

Welcome to the future!

01 Advanced Innovation is a consulting agency specialized in high-tech sustainable innovation, with competences spanning from hard product development over resource planning systems to artificial intelligences. We believe these tools can provide the solution to almost any problem.

Where 01 Advanced Innovation differs from most consulting agencies is that we are not in business for money or career, but for the joy and interest in solving problems and making life better.

Thus 01 Advanced Innovation takes in requests on almost any kind of task or service, but at the same time reserves the right to turn down any orders we see no interest in. This ensures that we, when committed to a task, are the best motivated and most cost-efficient partner on the market.

While 01 Advanced Innovation will always be a small business, this does not deter us from solving big problems. When a task requires greater manpower or skills than we can muster, our global network usually provides what is needed. And we do of course guarantee the quality of our associates' work.

So, if you have a problem, a task or just an issue that have nagged you for long, please send a note about it to 01 Advanced Innovation. Projects, problems, research, designs, concepts and more are all welcome for closer inspection and discussion. And naturally we always act under full discretion.

Contact 01 Advanced Innovation and you will find that nothing is impossible!
